Hiya Chris,

Just to let you know, today went really well. The atmosphere was really positive with a much larger take up than I expected. When the group was split down to work on 'projects' each group came up with some really good ideas, some ideas were mutual between groups, we had some serious 'stuff' suggestions and some really fun ideas too.

We are going to brief the staff tomorrow on the next steps. The teams evolved from today are going away as working parties with actions to complete and I am now going to hopefully manage a full nights sleep!!!

I am sure Fiona will be in touch to let you know from her prospective, but I think it was great. Thank - you for all your help to date, I for one could not have done it without your input over the last few weeks. It has been a huge personal hill for me to climb along with loads of other things going on at the same time both in work and at home, I feel I have come a long way in a very short space of time. This is where my profile starts to come true again, I think I would like the world to slow down, just for a short while so I can catch up...

See you next week, baby permitting, any news?

Best Wishes

Elaine Hill
