My name is Sarah Burrows and I am the director of Sarah's Rose Garden florist. As a florist we deliver locally, nationally and worldwide. We have been in business for 13 years, and are very skilled in all aspects of floristry. We cater for Weddings, Funerals, all occasions and corporate work from 1 off bouquets to weekly reception arrangements, we also have our own Bad Boys club, which I'm sure Steve will tell you all about!

When Steve Lane from Ology gave his 10 minute presentation early 1 Wednesday morning, I was amazed!

I answered his questions in my mind and realized as a company director I really needed his help, and I have never looked back since!

We have been working on my business since November, and I can't believe what a difference he has made not only to my business but my behavior within the business. I now have a clearer vision on what I actually want to achieve, and with Steve's help and knowledge I can see a way to actually achieve that goal.

So if you are a managing director, and feel you have no control of your future, Company or team. Then Steve Lane of Ology is someone you really need to speak to. A really great quality of Steve's is that he never forces you into using him, it's really down to you to decide, but from my experience it has been an excellent investment.

If I can help you with any questions regarding our dealings with Steve Lane or if you want proof of what we have achieved so far, then please don't hesitate in contacting me. You can also contact me if you require flowers for any occasion.
