Hi Richard

Apologies for the delay in getting back to you - am happy for you to use the following

The full day's workshop I found to be stimulating engaging and of particular interest with regard to my own specific work practices, especially with regard to the dynamics of the workplace and the development of my working practices with colleagues and business associates - I would highly recommend the course as a useful tool for an examination of how we unknowingly interact with work colleagues and how we can strive to develop good practice and improve such relationships in the workplace

Dean
